THE BELL

Montgomery Bell Academy, Nashville, Tennessee

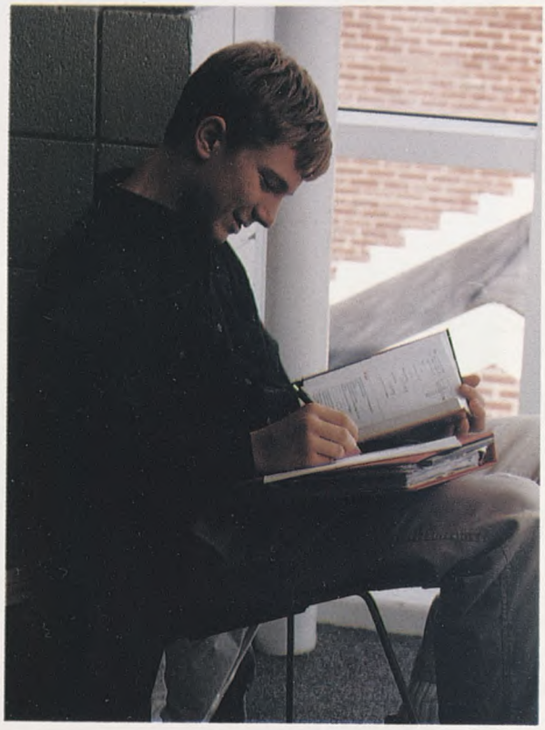

Life On The Hill

An introduction to a book about MBA, even a one-year segment of its life, is a ludicrous undertaking at best. So much goes on at Montgomery Bell Academy every day that words and photographs are only approximations, lacking the true spirit of success, honor, and teamwork in the hearts of all of MBA's students and faculty. So it is an arduous task that we have accepted in trying to reproduce that spirit within these pages, and we hope that you understand the meaning of MBA a little better when you reach the end of them.

Do Not Go Gentle Into That Good Night

Do not go gentle into that good night,
Old age should burn and rave at close of day;
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.

Though wise men at their end know dark is right,
Because their words had forked no lightning they
Do not go gentle into that good night.

Good men, the last wave by, crying how bright
Their frail deeds might have danced in a green bay,
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.

Wild men who caught and sang the sun in flight,
And learn too late, they grieved it on its way,
Do not go gentle into that good night.

Grave men, near death, who see with blinding sight
Blind eyes could blaze like meteors and be gay,
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.

And you my dear father, there on the sad height,
Curse, bless me now with your fierce tears I pray.
Do not go gentle into that good night.
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.

-- Dylan Thomas

Thomas Weaver

DEDICATION

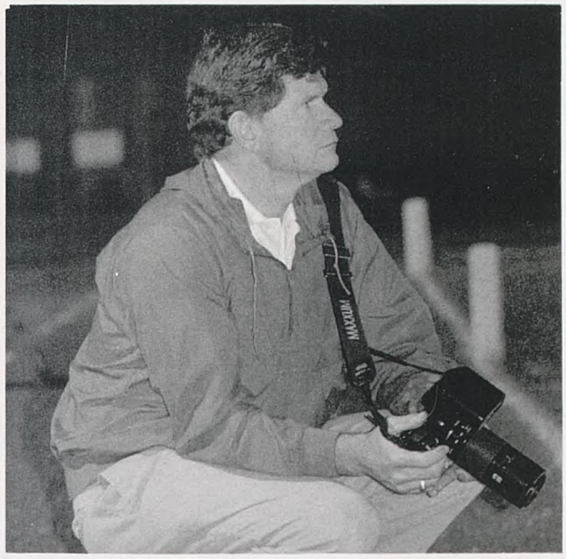

If you were to ask yourself, "What holds MBA together?" a cursory thought might lead you to conclude that it is obviously the students. But then you probably would say , "No, the teachers." But it wouldn't take long for most of us to conclude that the glue which holds MBA together is embodied in the efforts of one man, Mr. Thomas Weaver.

The 1965 Bell notes a fitting adage about Thomas Weaver. It says "Leave it to Weaver." Although Mr. Weaver is not a teacher, and rarely addresses the student body, everybody knows him by his outgoing attitude and reassuring smile. He is present at almost every school function, but never steals the limelight, contenting himself to be the "behind-the-scenes man."

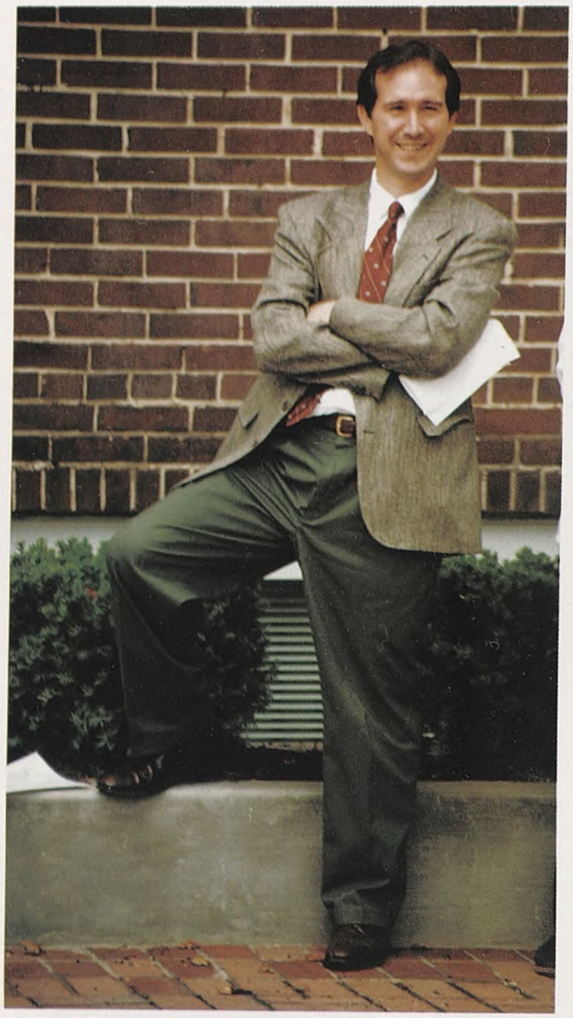

It is as the Director of Development and Alumni that Mr. Weaver plays his most crucial role. He not only organizes and publishes the Alumni Reports and newsletters, but also spearheads the alumni phone drives, bringing in thousands of dollars in donations for the school. Mr. Weaver also plays an informal role as a school photographer. The Bell has relied on Mr. Weaver a countless number of times for pictures when there was nowhere else to turn. And so it is with great respect and personal gratitude that the staff of the 1994-1995 Bell dedicates its book to Mr. Thomas Weaver.

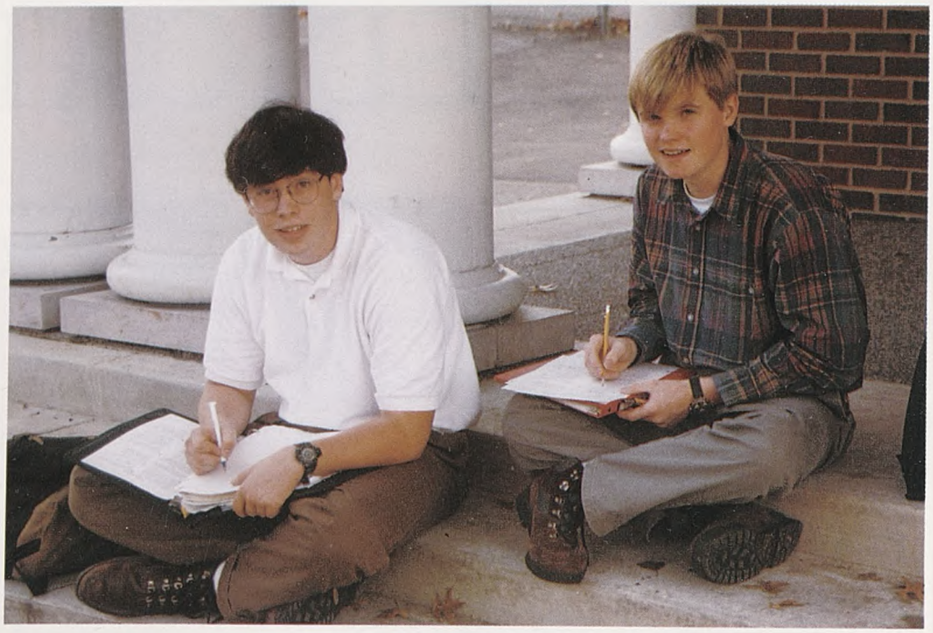

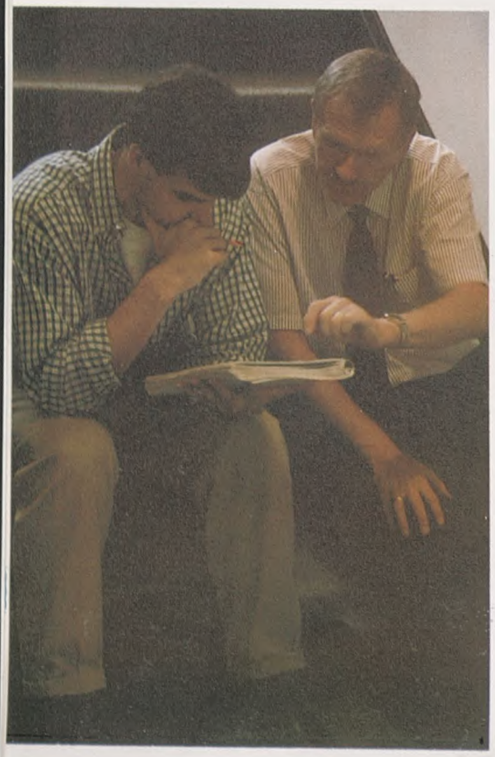

ACADEMICS

In the land of macaroni, Mr. Gioia is the big cheese.

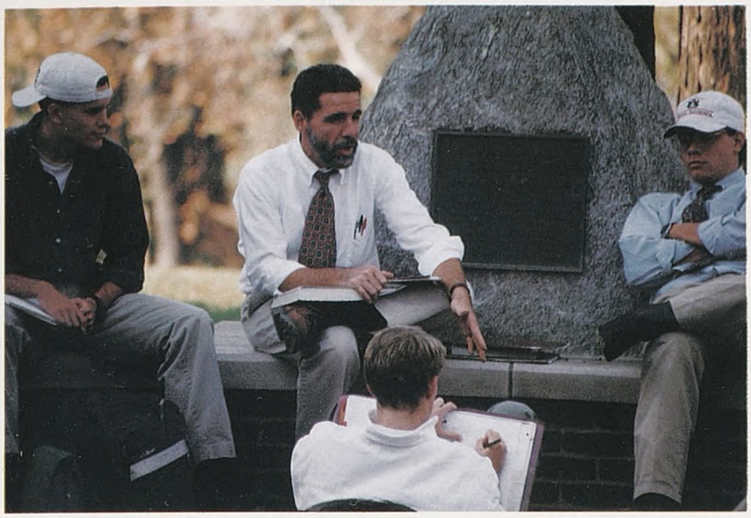

Dr. Crowell: "Well boys, there are many things to study besides books, har, har, har!"

Mr. Herring outlines his three-point plan for weaning students off of the academic nipple.

Dr. Griffith looks on as Mr. Corzine strikes a pose.

Bill is smiling because he was chosen to spend two sunny weeks in Wales with the World Debate Team.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

Some of these kids are doing their own thing, one of these kids is not quite the same.

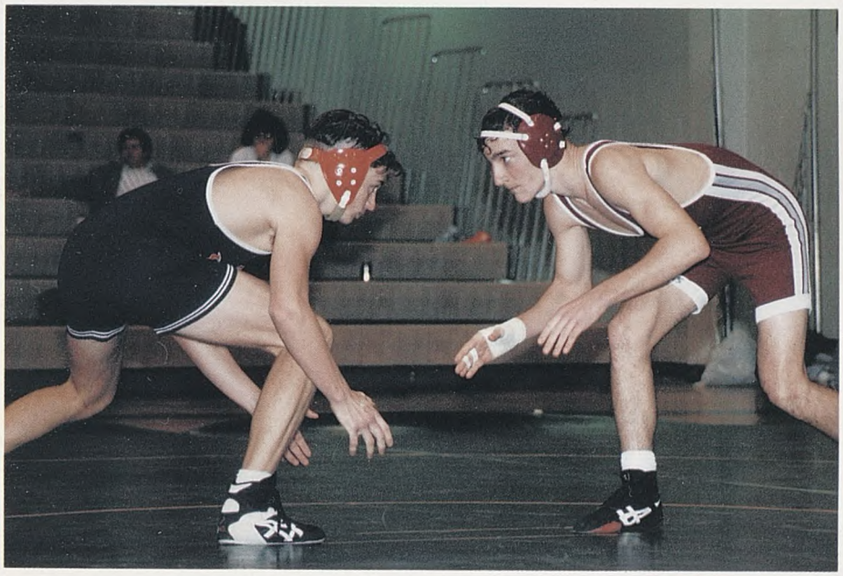

Mr. Bowers pumps up the crowd before the Homecoming game.

ATHLETICS

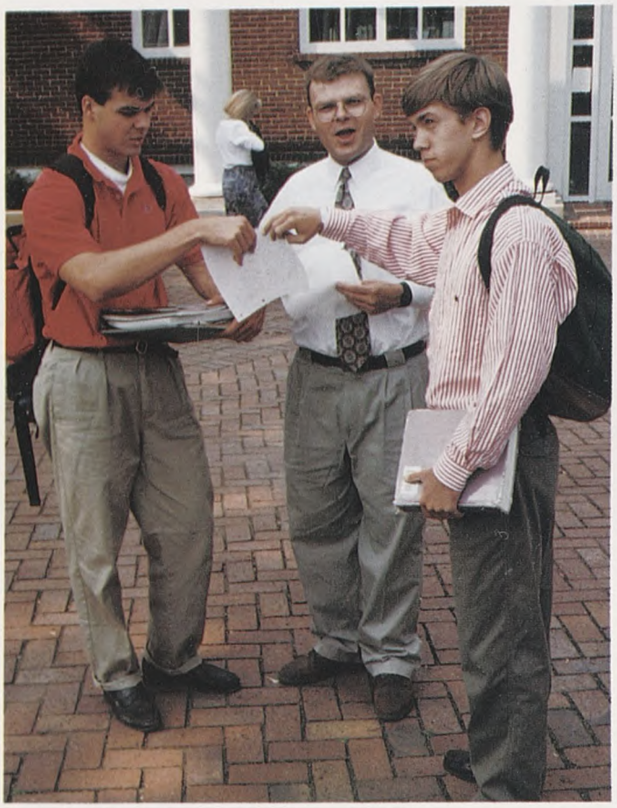

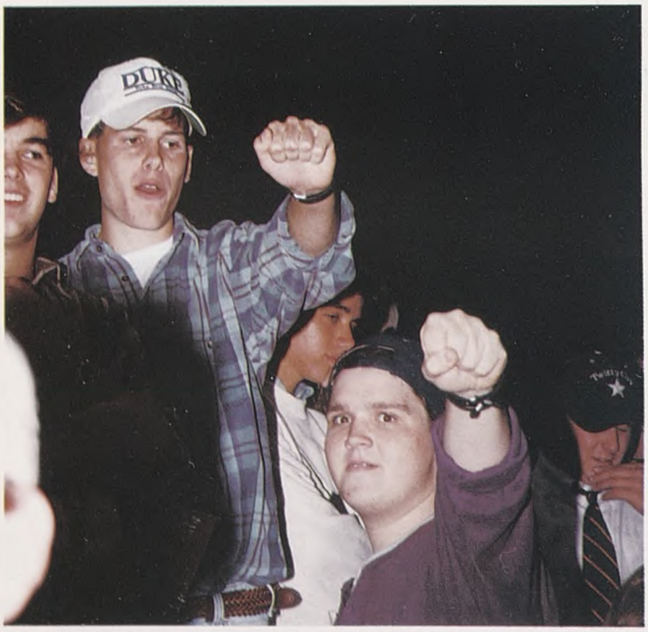

STUDENTS IN ACTION

Amidst a heated debate, Zach Skipper has one of "those moments."

T. Eddie finds followers in his crusade against that "@#*&!% purple dinosaur."

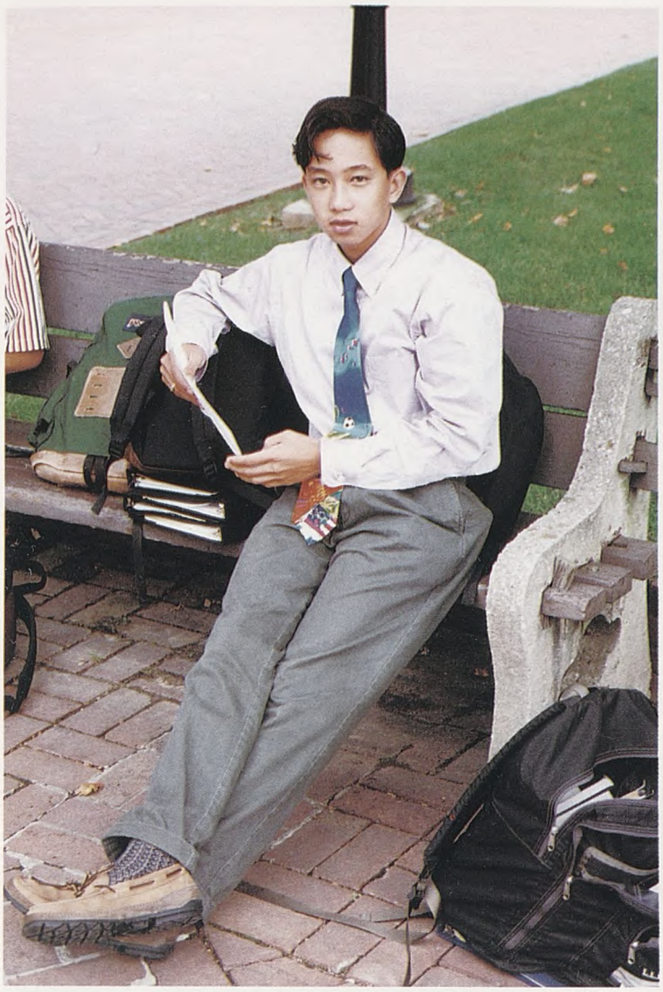

Underclassmen Quota Shot.

Deji wants you, you, AND YOU!

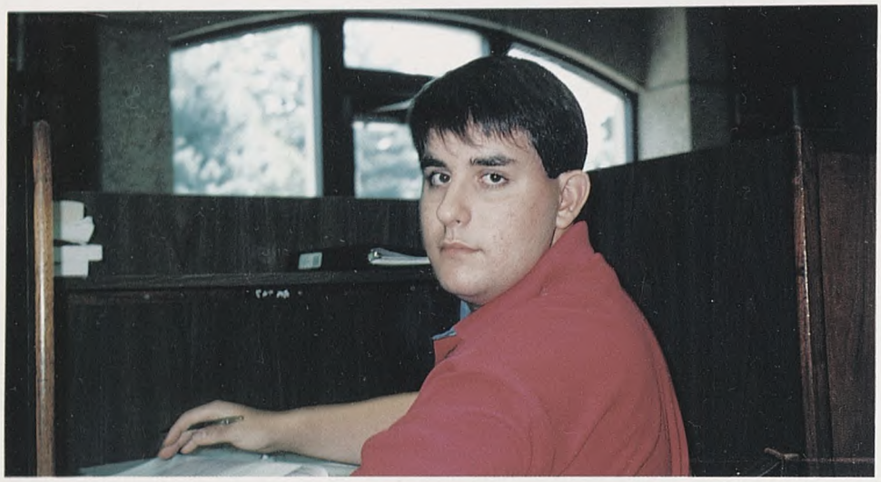

Unfortunately, most of Buck's body had to be censored.

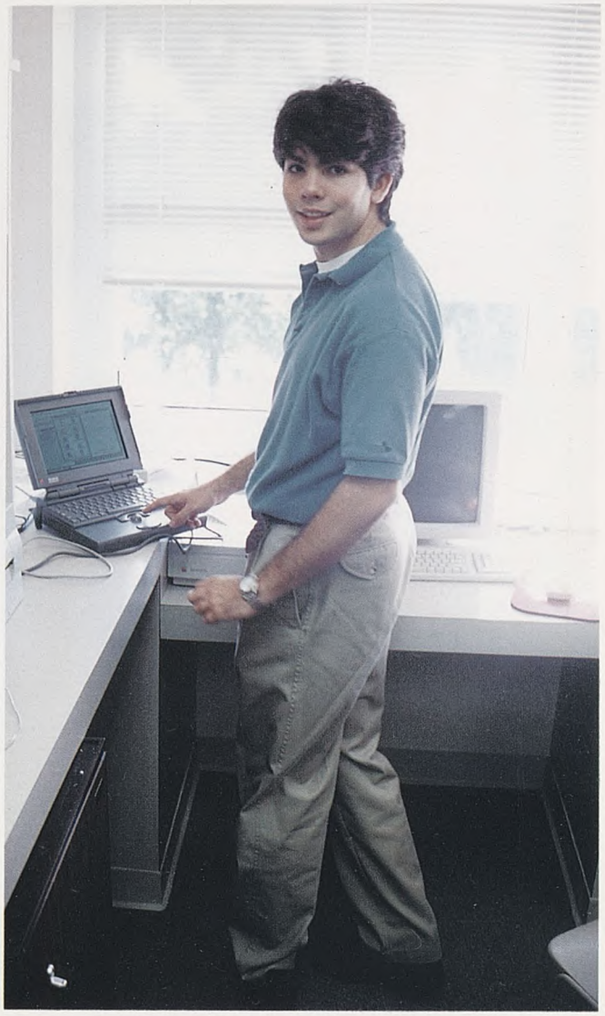

Freddie misses again.

...AND THEN MORE STUDENTS

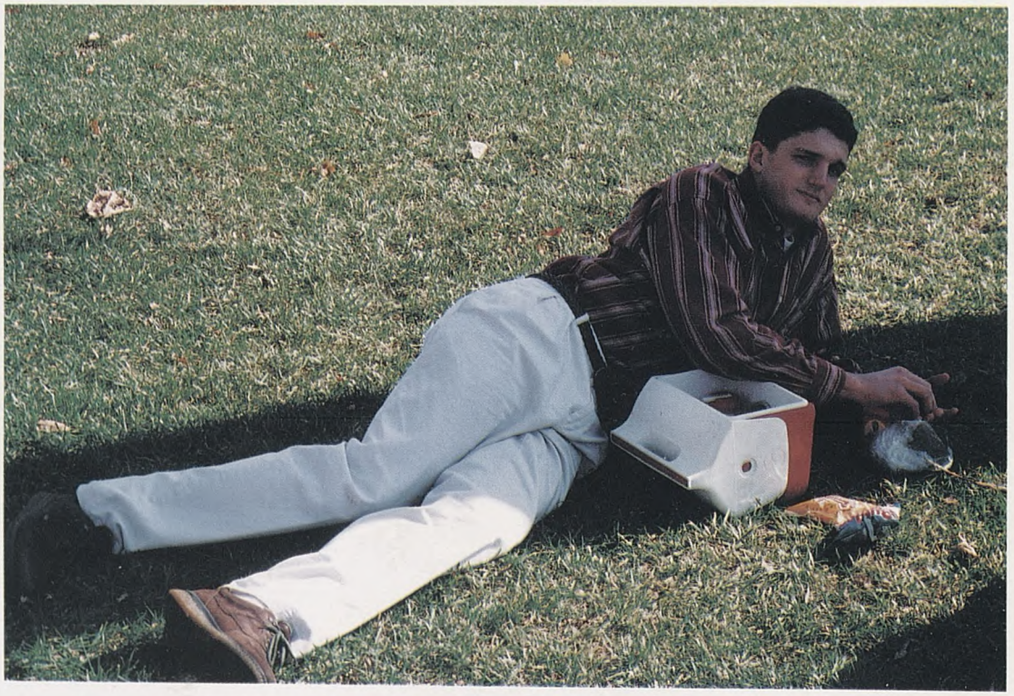

Micah Horgan Markman: One of the hardest-working men in the Annual business today.

"Sorry Dr. Griffith, there's only one Disco King at MBA."

Rob Welhoelter lays back, with his mind on his money and his money on his mind.

We dare not comment on this picture.

Silly Biesser shows off his new hand.

Clay knows how to have a good day, all day, every day.

ORGANIZATIONS

BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB TUTORS

There's nothing like clubbing a few boys, er, I mean, tutoring at the Boys and Girls Club every Tuesday and Thursday. There are no rigorous training sessions or background checks; all you need is a commitment to lend a little time to helping out inner-city elementary school kids with their homework. As is obvious in the photograph, the ranks of MBA tutors swelled to a record number this year, although many were seniors and will be missed by the program. The MBA contingent also ran a book drive (organized by Michael Risen) which helped update the club's library. It is easy to become friends with many of the kids who are regulars of "Power Hour". While the kids learn life skills from the tutors, the tutors also broaden their understandings of other communities in Nashville.

To some, it may seem redundant to include an article about a book within itself. It is, however, important to recognize the hard work put into the making of the Bell. There are no special privileges accompanying membership on the Bell staff (unless you count the ...wellll, you know), only intense labor and sacrifice. God bless those Bell staffers! Thousands of hours of work, sweat, and tears... and some of us didn't make it (We'll miss you Ezekiel Watson). But seriously, the Bell as an institution went through many changes this year, such as putting the final pages on the computer, as well as an expanded staff size. But we also maintained many previous innovations, such as a three-man Senior Bio Staff. All of this helped make the B*ell* one of the largest and most powerful publication staffs on campus. So we hope that you gain great knowledge, insight, enjoyment, and arousement during the rest of your reading of this book... and if not, remember: we work for free.

The 1994-1995 school year marked the 50th anniversary for the school's paper, The Bell Ringer. In that vein, the editors dedicated themselves to attain the highest level of readership to date for the beloved publication. Editors were: Business, Jimmy Rupley; Sports, Haynes Gentry; Entertainment, Matt Reasor; Copy, Ben Purser and Mark Wyckoff; Opinions, Chris Kuhn; News, Zach Skipper; Editor-in-Chief, Ted Callahan. Dr. Griffith proved yet again to be an able advisor and Mrs. Welhoelter contributed priceless advice as well.

A new record of eight issues and three flyers were published under the the Bell Ringer letterhead. The year's highlight was the production of the Dr. Paschall tribute issue. It was a four page, full color paper, and it attempted to provide a "shadow's shadow" of the man so loved by our school. In early April plans were being made to update the look of the paper—the editors felt that the paper was not as readable as it could be. The changes will hopefully correct this problem and make a new look that will hallmark the next fifty years for the paper.

ARCHIVES

This year's Archives began at a disadvantage from last year, as none of the staff had had any significant experience. Even still, they were able to put out two issues, one at Christmas and the other at Commencement. The last issue almost never was because of a power outage which disabled the MBA server; but due to the hard-working and ever- committed staff, the issue was saved from utter disaster. John Hearn (unfortunately not in the picture) organized and designed the Commencement issue, thanks to his skills in computer graphics. Thanks also to Dr. Batten, our sponsor, and the generosity of the Mother's Auxiliary in making Archives a sucess.

CUM LAUDE

The Cum Laude Society was established to recognize the achievement of outstanding students in high schools across the nation and to reflect the honor societies of college- level study. MBA received its charter in 1980, and has since recognized new inductees from the junior and senior classes. This year's ceremony saw a record fourteen students inducted, including: David Brooks, J.T. Davenport, Jonathan Fly, Benjie Griffith, Micah Horgan Markman, Charlie Malone, Anderson Williams,and Bill Wilson from the Senior class, and Chris Allen, Scott Bowen, Eric Compton, Jon David Daniell, Will Parsons, and Mark Pettus from the junior class. Additionally, Dr. Alice Springer and Mrs. Martha Thurmond were recognized as honorary faculty inductees.

The other ninja finally gets Elwood.

Ice-T Wesley launches his world tour at BGA.

Coach Tate and Praveen talk turkey.

Tyson gives his opponent the "eye of the tiger".

First, a little background. During the summer, MBA policy debaters travelled to such prestigious programs as the Kentucky Institute Fellows (Praveen Kambam and Clay Risen), the Michigan Seven Weeks (Bill Wilson and Eric Womack), and the Northwestern Coon-Hardy Program (Tim Wesley). So it was not a shock that the team did as well as it did. Pud. MBA closed out the District Tournament and Vestavia, and MBA seniors reached the Semifinal round at the Bronx Invitational, the Charlotte Latin Tournament, and Westminster, the quarters of Wake Forest, and the Octofinals at St. Marks, The Glenbrooks, and Emory. Pud. The Glenbrooks were of particular note, as Jake Wesley and Elwood Sisk used ninja tactics to beat nationally ranked Niles West and clear at only their second tournament. Clay Risen and Praveen Kambam finished 5th out of 16 at the Greenhill Round Robin, while Praveen and Eric Womack were invited to the Glenbrook Round Robin, the most prestigious tournament in the country; and Clay narrowly edged out Praveen and Eric for the Worst Debate Relationship Award. Barbecue. MBA also once again qualified three teams for the Tournament of Champions in May. Not to be outdone, MBA Lincoln Douglas, under the coaching of Renard "no, he's French" Francois, posted its best season ever- Senior Mark Roden reached the elimination rounds of every major tournament and qualified for nationals, while both he and Ben Purser qualified for the Tournament of Champions. None of this would have been possible without the coaching support of Mr. Tate, Mr. DeYoung, Renard, and Gordon "far be it from me to vote on rep" Hull.

FCA

FCA got off to one of its best starts ever, with attendance well above average. We had two wonderful speakers, Joe Chilberg and Rudy Kalis. Both were wonderful spiritual motivators and conveyed great messages. Our joint meetings with the ladies of the Hall have also been a great success, The huddle leaders have taken a more laid back approach in hopes of making this year's FCA more fun and enjoyable, yet spiritual at the same time. When asked about this year's meetings, MBA senior Mark Dunkerley said "They're nifty." Other events this year included the annual Chubby Bunny contest (with a joint meeting approach), the annual basketball tournament, a touch football game, speakers, testimonies, and more fun and games.

JUNIOR HONOR SOCIETY

The Montgomery Bell Academy Junor Honor Society recognizes those students in grades eight through ten who who have attained high academic achievement and good character but are not yet eligible for the Cum Laude Society. In order to be considered for membership, a student must have a 90 average over a consecutive three semester period. Membership is maintained until the end of sophomore year by keeping up satisfactory academic achievment and personal conduct.

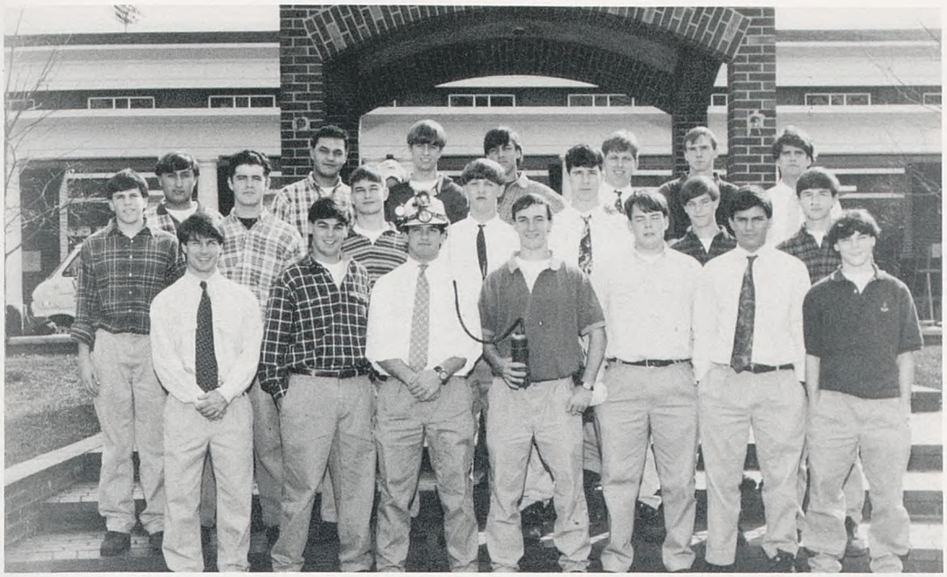

New members this year include:

Jake Beesley, Evan Chen, Jonathan Chen, Peter Chen, Taylor Chenery, Andrew Esterday, Daniel Estes, Raja Gaddipati, Benjamin Gambill, Matt Hale, Hunter Hillenmeyer, Samir Idnani, Glenn Kantz, Will McMurray, Tom Mitchell, Joe Montgomery, Robbie Quinn, Bryan Sturtevant, Jonathan Tam, James Ward, and Mark Yopp.

Members in- course include:

Dave Alaexander, Mark Burrish, Clay Callison, Joey Crace, Brew Davis, Grant Dickson, David Gilbert, Michael Griffin, Lee Hampton, Akinori Hashimura, Rob Humbracht, Aaron Lara, Stephen Marler, Todd Moran,Chris Nalbantyan, Nathan Sabel, Michael Stahl,Brian Stults, and Adam Vahrenkamp.

This year a new club was born at MBA. The Outing Club was formed under the faculty leadership of Mr. Harwell and Mr. Lisenby. We began by first organizing and then electing officers. Will McKeand and Tom Hall were senior representatives, and Alan Roe and Taylor Ripley were chosen as junior representatives. We began the year with a trip to Savage Gulf to hike and climb. The next trip was to Virgin Falls where the group was able to climb, hike, and spelunk. Next, the Outing Club took a caving trip that was quite a success. The last trip was to the Andes Mountains, where the club got stranded and had to eat some microbes. The club enjoyed much success this year, and hopefully it will continue the success next year.

The adventure begins...

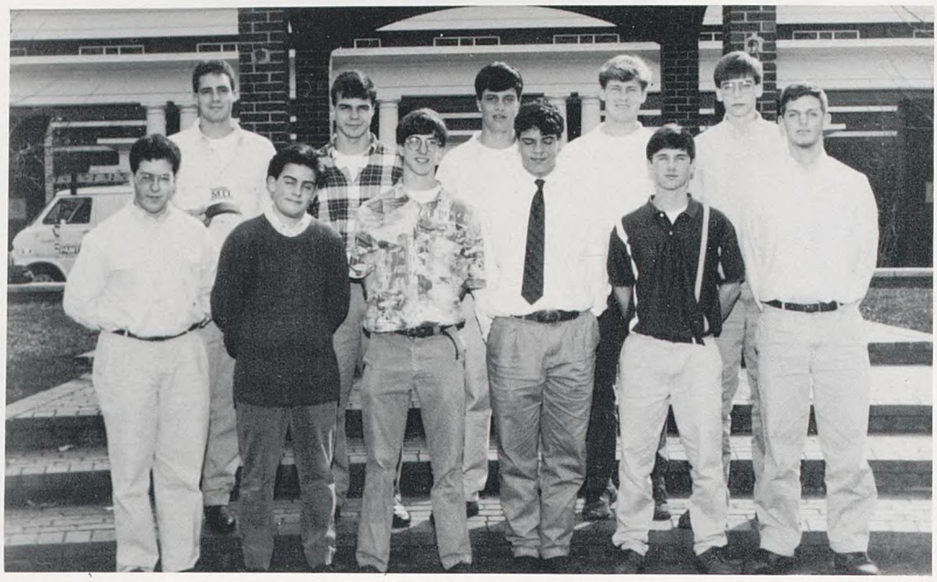

Another successful outing.

Big Al, big field.... big deal.

NATIONAL MERIT SEMIFINALISTS

Last year, a very large number of MBA students performed well on the PSAT. Thus, a large number of students were recognized by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. Commended students this year were Buck Buchanan, Bradley Coburn, John Farringer, Michael Frey, Tom Hall, Micah Horgan Markman, Praveen Kambam, Ted Morrissey, Kenneth Pruitt, Bill Siesser, Paul Thompson, Rob Welhoelter, and Bill Wilson. Semifinalists included David Brooks, Ted Callahan, Brian Camp, Haynes Gentry, Martin Gilmore, Eric Himmelfarb, Nathan Lujan, Charlie Malone, Freddie O'Connell, Jake Ossoff, Clay Risen, Mark Roden, and Stuart Smartt. Of these gentleman, David, Ted, Brian, Haynes, Martin, Eric, Charlie, Freddie, Jake, Clay, and Mark advanced to Finalist status. All of the finalists are eligible to receive National Merit or related scholarships.

RECYCLE MBA

Recycle MBA continues to do its best to bring environmental awareness to the campus community. This year brought a new addition to the team, Mr. Lisenby, who graciously accepted the job of Recycle MBA sponsor. With Mr. Lisenby's help, Recycle MBA also instituted the first annual Recycle MBA Phone Book Drive. The great help of too many people to mention made the year go smoothly for all involved. Many new recruits, even some freshman and sophomores, joined up to help out. Afternoon water fights while cleaning up the bins and treks to Jefferson-Smurfitt livened up the otherwise tedious task of sorting and collecting. This year also signals the end of service of a great group of seniors including Micah Horgan Markman (President), Peter Ghishan, Freddie O'Connell, Dave Sifford, Eric Womack, Cory Frazier, Stratton Huggins, Martin Gilmore, Sahba Ferdowsi, Buck Buchanan, Haynes Gentry, Praveen Kambam, Tim Wesley, Joey Martinez, and J.T. Davenport, to name a few. This fine group is succeeded by Doug Kasselberg and company who will take Recycle MBA's success into the future.

SERVICE CLUB

The institution of the Service Club strives to provide both the school and the surrounding community with a dedicated, selfless commitment to helping. This year's officers restructured the constitution, especially in the aspects of credit totals and of officers' duties. In addition to working the lot of school sports functions, the Club participated in countless community projects, including Belle Meade's Fall Fest and functions at Grassmere Wildlife Park and the Cumberland Science Museum. The Club saw many dutiful junior and senior contributors and a few promising ambitious freshmen and sophomores to lead in the future. The officers would like to thank Mr. Bennett and Dr. Springer, our sponsors.

SOUP KITCHEN

Soup Kitchen continued to be a success this year and even got some help from the Student Council. Money collections organized by the Student Council paid for a large portion of the Soup Kitchen expenses. Even though the Student Council did not participate significantly during the actual Soup Kitchens, the tireless work of others made the service flow smoothly. Dr. Springer, Mr. Chenery, and Ms. Lefebvre took turns concocting some mouth-watering cuisines ranging from fruit compote to Hawaiian chicken to shrimp creole. Students got a taste of what it will be like to cook for themselves as they peeled and diced pounds of onions and stripped multiple chicken carcasses. Frequent trips to the local food market and multiple green bean, butter, and dough fights helped to alleviate the stress and pressure of cooking for about a hundred-and-fifty people. Despite the many tears shed over frying onions, everyone had a great time and enjoyed the satisfaction of serving the community.

HONOR COUNCIL

Established in 1945, the Honor Council is a twelve-member judicial body elected by the students. This group of students strives to promote honor on the MBA campus through the Honor Code, which prohibits lying, cheating, stealing, and deceiving. If a peer is believed to have broken the Honor Code, the Council tries the suspected student and recommends punishment. The goal of the Honor Council is to allow a convicted student to recognize and to correct mistakes as well as to create an atmosphere of trust in the MBA community.

In its 49th year, the Honor Council was barraged with cases in the first semester. In attempts to increase effectiveness, the Council presented three amendments to the constitution for acceptance by the student body. Only an appeals process for disputed cases was voted into acceptance. Despite these disappointments, the Honor Council, under the leadership of Rob Welhoelter, Zach Skipper, Stephen Bess, and David Berry, worked hard to continue the progress of regaining and maintaining respect among both the student body and the faculty.

MOCK TRIAL

The 1995 MBA Varsity Mock Trial team was very successful this year. After many weeks of arduous practice every night at the courthouse until way into the night, the team was ready to try a case. The A-team lawyers this year were Anderson Williams, Will O'Hare, Bradley Coburn, John Farringer, and Andrew Stahl. The witnesses were played by Bill Siesser, Bill Wilson, T. Eddie Sisk, J.T. Davenport, and Jimmy Rupley. Also gaining experience in the confines of the courtroom were B-Team lawyers Marshall Brandt, David Ramsay, and Beau Tidwell and witnesses Randy Howell, Chris Kuhn, John Buchanan, Jonathan Ramsey, Taylor Ripley, and Scott Denbo. The A-team handily defeated the team from Harpeth Hall en route to a City Championship, boosted by a "best lawyer" performance by Bradley Coburn. In the state competition, the MBA squad beat Clinton High School in the finals to win the state. The team, minus Anderson, Andrew, and J.T., hopes to continue this winning tradition at the National Mock Trial Competition in Denver, Colorado in May.

STUDENT COUNCIL

With the unflagging support of faculty advisor Dr. Crowell, the Student Council built its program around four major projects: producing the Homecoming dance, financing the Soup Kitchen, revising the student council's constitution, and planting a garden in memory of Dr. Paschall. Traditionally, the Soup Kitchen has been funded through the school's budget. Feeling that the student body would benefit most by making a personal sacrifice for the Soup Kicthen, the Student Council called upon the MBA students during the first assembly to finance the Soup Kitchen for the entire year. With the help of Mr. Laird Smith and the assistance of Service Club members, the Homecoming dance proved to be a financial, organizational, and recreational victory for the Student Council. The Student Council made preparations to revise its constitution as a document better serving the student body. Using class meetings to share ideas with and receive guidance from the student body, the Student Council created a constitution that it feels is better equipped to serve its students. Finally, the Student Council was most honored to engineer a tribute to the memory of Dr. Paschall. In the fall, the students donated the funds necessary to construct a garden as a living memorial, and the project was completed with a spring planting.

TOTOMOI

EVENTS

ART PROGRAM

This year the Art Program at MBA proved yet again that it is one of the largest and most powerful in the world. Not only was there an art opening in the Davis Building gallery for MBA alumnus Paul Harmon, but also an outstanding showing by current MBA students at the National Scholastic Arts Competition. In the regional competition, held at Cheekwood, 68 works (representing the work of 50 individuals) of the 201 submitted were submitted by MBA – in other words, 1/3 of the works in the show were ours. Furthermore, Stephen Hunt received one of five Hallmark Awards for Drawing, the highest distinction. Many other students received Gold and Silver Awards and Certificates of Merit. The Art Studio AP students were quite successful as well; Buck Buchanan, Freddie O'Connell, and Eric Womack received Art Purchase awards from the school and several works were sold to private collectors. This year's art was well-received in the end-of-the-year Student Art Show. The artists of M.B.A., past and present, owe a great debt of gratitude to Mr. Womak and Ms. Paschall.

The bane of the visual artist is the photographer... until it comes time for AP slides.

THEATRE

We started by mapping out a challenging Theatre season and sending out MBA's first subscription brochure to tout our shows. If there was a common theme among them, it would be the ups, downs, and sideways shuffles of teenage romance. In THE FANTASTICKS, the boy woos the girl and does it with song. In COMPOUND FRACTURE, a collection of four student-directed one act plays, we learned that things both between people and in movie making are not always what they first seem. In Shakespeare's ROMEO AND JULIET, the boy meets the girl, gets the girl with the help of some pretty hot poetry, and keeps the girl, but loses everything. In Peter Shaffer's EQUUS, the boy meets the girl, but takes out his frustrations on some unsuspecting horses and an inquisitve psychiatrist. Seniors Bill Siesser, Paul Thompson, Will O'Hare, Bradley Coburn, and David Berry led an ever-growing theatre contingent in these endeavours. Their contribution to MBA Theatre over the last three years has been significant. Junior Rob Hancock has put his cunning voice to good use, and we expect great things from him in the future. Freshman Alan Halachmi filled in as stage manager for several productions and gave that position some previously unknown stability. MBA may be witnessing the emergence of yet another winning team.

MUSIC ON THE HILL

Automatic taxi stop. Electric cigarette. Love, baby. That about sums it up for our illustrious Music Department this year. It was a great year. The jazz band was groovy, groovy, jazzy, funky, and more. As always, there were spring and winter concerts. The Winter Concert happened to coincide almost with Christmas. The chorus sang at the Father/Son Banquet and the Alumni Dinner, as well as at Graduation, with an inspiring solo performance by Mark Dunkerley on the "Navy hymn." We listened. The various music groups all convened near the close of the year to perform a memorial concert for Dr. Paschall, Fred Forehand, and Tommy Owen. And to honor them, Todd Lawrence wrote a piece, "Kirche," and performed it with various professional musicians. The "Alma Mater" was even sounded a time or two during the year. Thanks to Dr. Cassel and Mr. Rundberg for their guidance and dedication.

Dr. Cassell wrote his article in the form of a song.

HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES

Homecoming is a two-day event which includes the Spaghetti Supper, a bake sale, a football game, and the Homecoming dance. Once again, both the Supper and the game were great successes.

This year's Homecoming dance was as successful as the record-breaking Spaghetti Supper. Race, composed of current MBA students Stuart Smartt and Ted Callahan, played for the dance. Regrouping from several months' hiatus, the band had to bring in a session bassist, Bill Capshaw, to cover the bottom end. Two former students, singer Burton Verner and guitarist Rishi Malhotra, completed the group. Maximizing the spectacle while minimizing the costs, the dance was staged in the theatre. Terence Cheng created a potpourri of moods and emotions with spectacular light work. Slam-dancing abounded until ubiquitous chaperone Dr. Crowell descended upon the dance floor and prevented a melee of global scale. Truly, the Homecoming Dance was a great time for all involved.

With the return of rising seniors Mark Wyckoff, John Farringer, David Berry, Zach Skipper, Kenneth Pruitt, Jonathan Fly, Joey Martinez, and Phil Guengerich, the 1994 cross country team was assured of yet another superb season. Despite persistent injuries to Wyckoff and Berry, and a season-ending injury to James Gunn, the cross country team, headed by co-captains Skipper, Wyckoff, and Farringer, with runners Scott Bowen, Jim Alley, Pruitt, and Fly had two goals in mind: to win Region for a record-setting 14th consecutive year and to qualify for state for the 16th consecutive year. In prestigious meets such as the A. F. Bridges, Tennessee Classic, and the Lexington Catholic Invitational, the Big Red finished first out of the Metro teams. In the Drake Invitational, MBA finished first; in the Metro and District meets, the Big Red finished at the top of the pack (again). The varsity team proved tremendous in the Region meet with the injured Wyckoff capturing second place and Fly placing third, winning Region again and qualifying for State. The State meet was more challenging than ever because of the muddy trail from the previous night's rain. However, the Big Red cross country team would not give up, leading MBA to a sixth-place finish in the meet-- the best since 1990!

The cross-country team would like to thank coaches Pruitt, Corzine, and Rundberg for their time and efforts. The team also greatly appreciates the parents who came to every meet to cheer us on, and without whom we could not have had as successful a season as we did.

Jim pumps it up.

INTERVIEW WITH COACH PRUITT

Bell: What did you think of the season? Was it as you expected it to be?

Coach Pruitt: Certainly in August we probably wouldn't have thought that we would have been sixth in the state. In retrospect, perhaps we could have done better in the invitationals at the beginning of the season. Considering the returning talent, yes, we did pretty well. Losing Mr. Gunn was certainly unexpected. After some early 'funnies', Mark Wyckoff had a good year. The seniors did better than one would think.

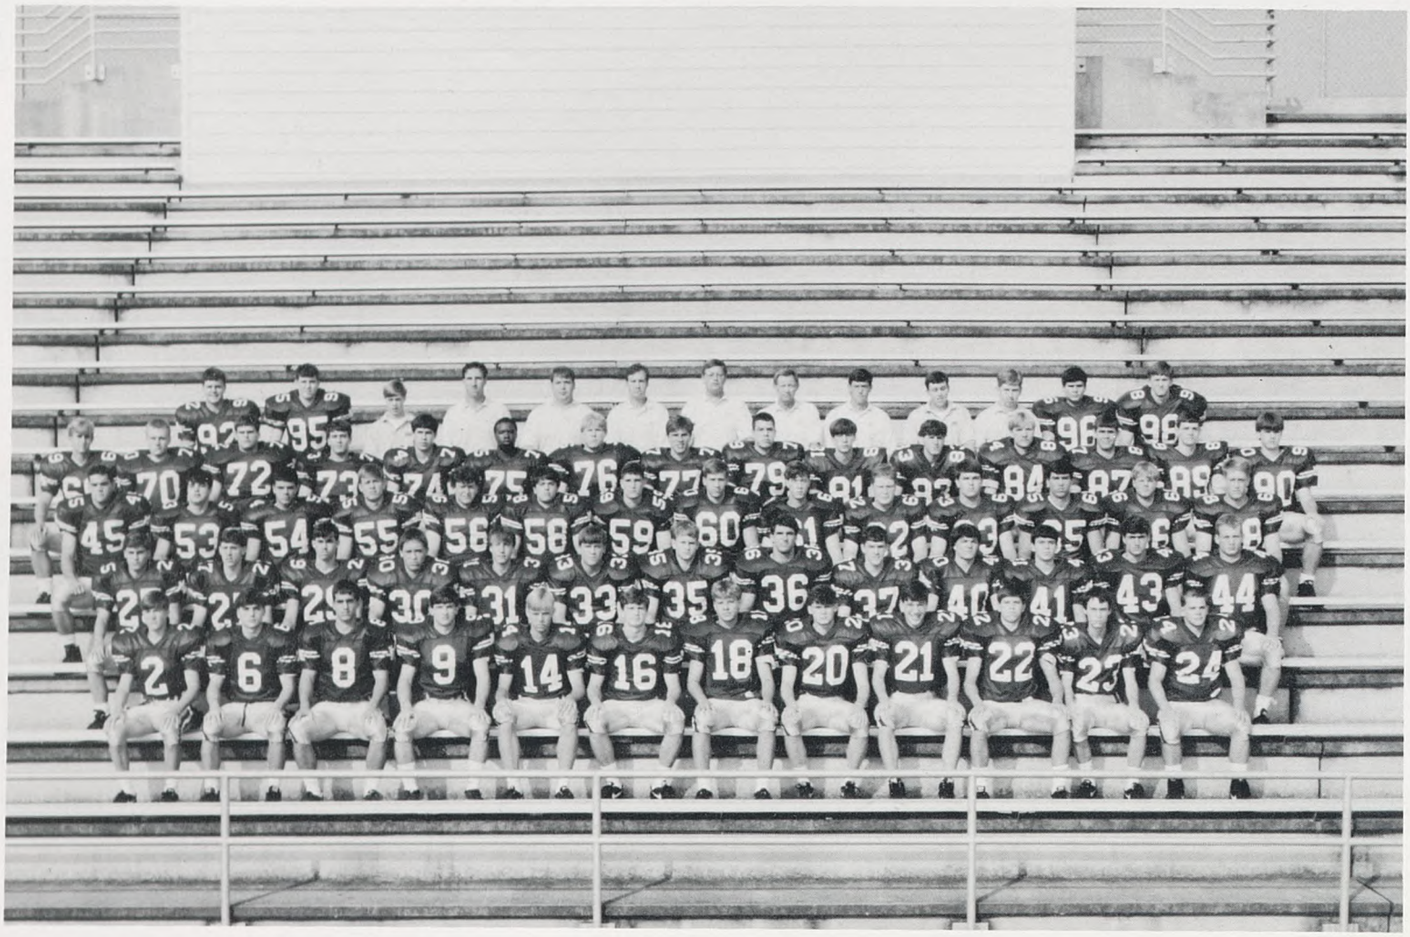

Bell: Any records set?

C.P.: Besides winning the region for the fourteenth time in a row, no records were set.

Bell: What do you think of the upcoming talent for next year?

C.P.: You may draw any conclusions that you'd like. Considering the people we've lost and the people Ryan's lost, our team will have a hard time. Jim Alley, Scott Bowen, and James Gunn can take them. Our fourth man will probably be Colin Bonfiglio and our fifth Jon Daniell. Marler and Mark Burish will continue to improve.

After being named head football coach, Ricky Bowers, class of '80, went to work, by holding MBA's first spring practice in over thirty years. The team, captained by Dave Sifford, J.T. Davenport, and Stratton Huggins, posted an incredible season with an 9-3 record. The Big Red offense, led by quarterback Monte Poe, tailbacks Buck Blair, Max Fuller, and Michael Frey, and fullback J.T. Davenport, manned the ball over and around the opposing defenses. The holes were provided by the offensive line, consisting of tackles Jon Gaston, John McLendon, and Dave Sifford, and guards Dave Morgan and Bill Englert; anchoring the line were centers John Bearden and Matthew Berry. The very talented receiving corps consisted of Franklin Jarman and Sifford at tight end, Jackson Dale at split end, and Morrissey at wingback. The Big Red offense usually scored early on, causing the opposing team to battle to catch up. Standing in the way of the opposing team was a very potent defense. They included defensive tackles Scott Denbo and John McLendon, anchored by NOSE guards Andy Corts and Titus Thomas IV, as linebackers Stratton Huggins and Will Bartholomew plugged up the middle, leaving little work for the Big Red secondary. The secondary was composed of Bill Hancock, Buck Blair, and Ted Morrissey. The defensive ends- Sifford, Jarman, and Englert, contained the opposing runners for the watchful eye of safeties Fletcher Tidwell and Davenport.

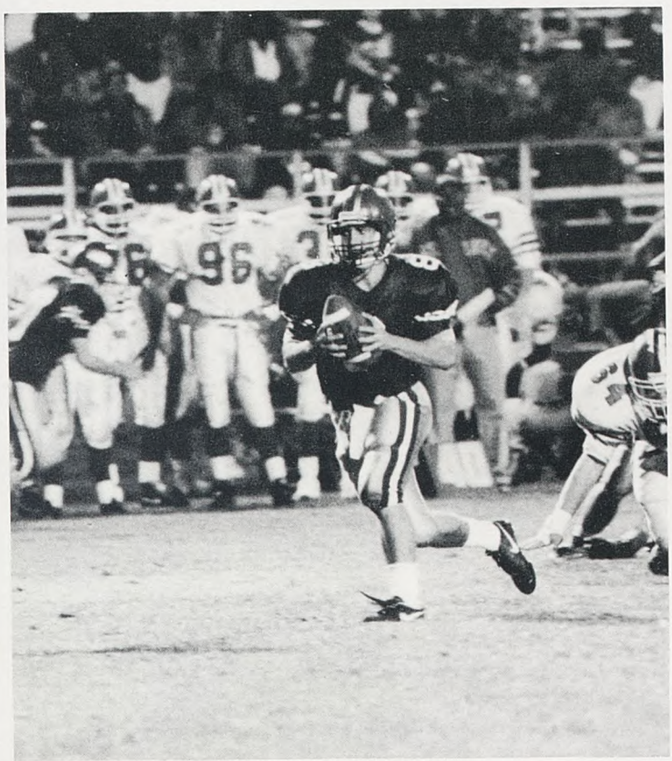

The Big Red would like to thank coaches Bowers, Caudill, Elliot, Morrissey, Moore, Pearson, and Roberts, and strength coach Brad Reese, and trainer Lynn Shannon. Football team would also like to thank the fans, who at many away games outnumbered those of the opposing teams.

INTERVIEW WITH COACH BOWERS

Bell: What's the most important thing you learned from Coach Owen and how has it helped you coach?
Coach Bowers: Organizational skills and the importance of them in terms of the mental and physical advantages they give high school students.
Bell: Is there any moment that describes the season?
C.B.: The level of effort given by seniors, from the first day to the last day. Every senior on the team sacrificed and had a more servant-like spirit than almost any team I've seen.
Bell: Was it a difficult first season as the head football coach, coming from basketball coaching here already?
C.B.: Definitely it was a transition, because we left basketball on March 22 and spring football began around the end of April. I had no time to think about the transition.
Bell: What about next season? Will the future seniors put out the same effort as the preceding class?
C.B.: They are certainly a measuring stick by which the Junior class can measure themselves, but I have a strong feeling that this class will raise the standard. I can feel this class wants to excel; there is a great deal of energy to excel.

The MBA golf season yielded both excitement and disappointment. They started the season well with a good showing at the Early Bird preseason tournament in Cookeville, placing second only to Baylor, the eventual state champion. Fortune turned for the worse at the start of year, as, the team lost to rivals Brentwood High and Father Ryan, and tied Brentwood Academy. In the second half of the season, the team had a disappointing one-shot loss to Clarksville in the rain. Things were not looking too good. With one match left in the season, Coach Caldwell challenged the team to do some "soul searching". The team won their match against Overton, and moved on to the District tournament. MBA fired a 311 in District, losing only to Ryan by four strokes. Cooper Jones led the team with a fourth-place finish at 73, while David McDowell shot a respectable 78, receiving seventh-place honors. MBA moved on to Region, their toughest challenge. The Big Red shot a 319, losing to Ryan by only three strokes. Jones and Elliott Teague qualified for State. The State tournament was held at its perennial location of Henry Horton State Park. Teague broke his hand the weekend before State in an unfortunate incident; and so Cooper Jones solely represented MBA. Although the golf team did not fulfill their goal of qualifying as a team for State, the season was encouraging. Two promising eighth graders gained much experience. The three Juniors, Elliott Teague, David McDowell, and Ben Bodzy, are ready to assume leadership positions next year. The golf team will, however, miss seniors Cooper Jones, Charlie Malone, and Haynes Gentry. The team is looking forward to a great and promising season next year.

INTERVIEW WITH COACH CALDWELL

Bell: How do you feel the season went?
Coach Caldwell: This season was an average one for MBA. We did not do well in the end of our tournaments. We finished 2nd in district & region, and should have finished 1st.

Bell: Any records or moments stick out?
C.C.: We did well early in the season. We finished 2nd in the Early Bird Tournament(to Baylor, the state champions) and 3rd out of sixteen in the Bruin Classic.

Bell: Prediction for next year with new players?
C.C.: We only lose one starter(Cooper Jones who was our best player), so we return four starters.
Next year's team will be older and should be better.

For the second time in four years, the Big Red basketball team headed into the season with a new coach. As Ricky Bowers shifted gears to coach football, Kyle Bills was given the difficult task of following up on the most successful season ever at MBA. As difficult a task as it was, Coach Bills proved to be worthy as the Big Red recorded their fourth straight twenty-win season under the strong leadership of five returning seniors.

The Big Red got off to a fast start by going 12-0 and winning the prestigious Ross M. Lynn Tournament in Memphis; Rob Welhoelter and Michael Godwin were named to the All-Star Tournament team and Will Coles was selected MVP. After Christmas, the Big Red began its grueling district schedule. With Overton, Father Ryan, and Pearl-Cohn all being state contenders, MBA battled through the season and finished second in the running for the district championship.

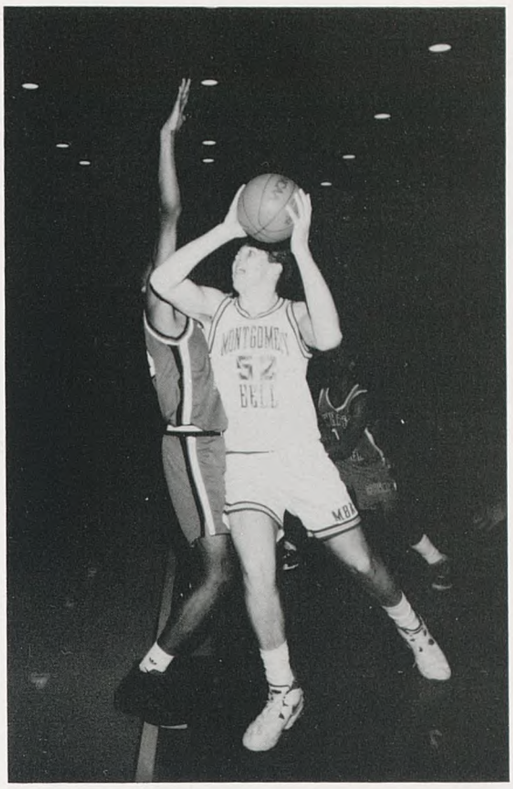

The Big Red battled through the tournaments and staged a come-from-behind win against Maplewood (in which the team trailed by 15 at half), before falling to eventual state runner-up Overton in the Region Semi-Finals.

This season marked the end of the careers of five seniors from MBA, four of whom plan to continue playing in college. Will Coles, Rob Welhoelter, Logan Verner, and Mark Dunkerly plan to play at Furman, Yale, Sewanee, and Middlebury, respectively.

Although the losses are great, MBA should be able to continue its success as rising seniors Allen Cermak, Grant Martin, and Brent Osborne take control with the help of underclassmen Mike Godwin and Stephen Marler. Overall, the transition from Coach Bowers to Coach Bills went smoothly, and the '94-'95 season was a great success.

DUNK!!!

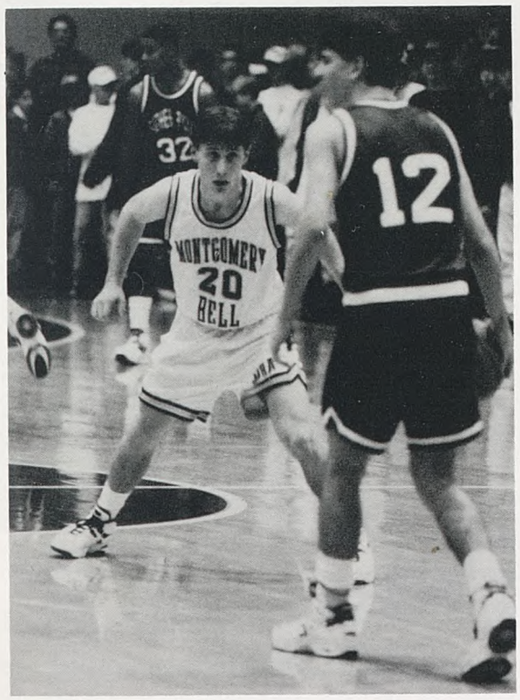

Mark powers his way in.

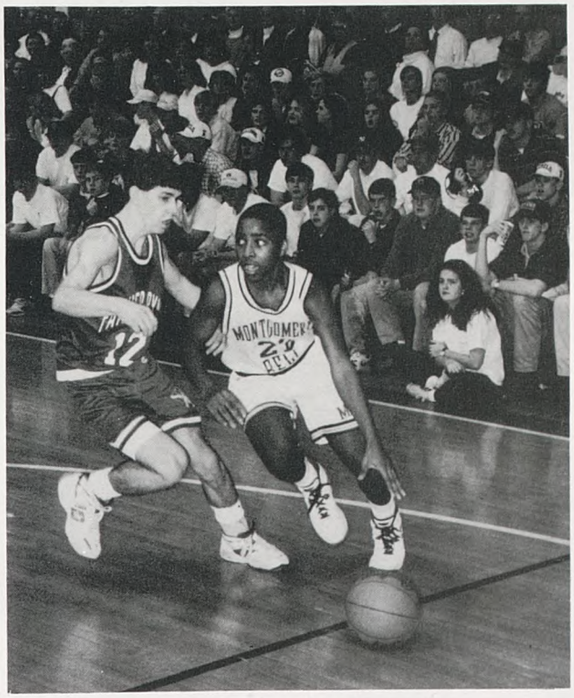

INTERVIEW WITH COACH BILLS

Bell: How do you feel the transition of coaching went, from Franklin to Montgomery Bell Academy?
Coach Bills: Good; the fact that I was hired in late March made the transition very easy because I had the opportunity to meet with the returning players.
Bell: During what part of the season was the team at its best?
C.B.: I believe we were tremendous early on and the string of consecutive wins established our team.
Bell: What is your most memorable moment in your first year at MBA?
C.B.: The group of kids we had did everything we asked of them. Coming to practice was memorable because the players gave all they had, day in and day out.
Bell: What is the outcome for next season?
C.B.: I think we will be good next year; there will be many new faces. The rising seniors: Cermack, Yates, Martin, and Osborn have great potential to lead the team with Mike returning, among others.

Ted is armed with the "eye of the tiger".

From the very beginning of the year, the MBA Swim Team managed to tap the potential of nearly every one of its swimmers; and as a team, the Big Red Wave managed to finish with a nearly flawless record. With such a large and formidable team, the team's main goal was to regain the Region Championship title.

The first two meets, against Oakland, Martin Luther King, and several other schools, were scheduled mainly to see how strong the younger half of the team would actually be this year. Every swimmer swam tremendously and provided for two wins for the Big Red Wave. MBA then received the opportunity to take on longtime rival Brentwood High. With the whole team present, MBA swept by the Brentwood guys and extended its perfect record. Shortly after the Brentwood meet, Father Ryan emerged eager to test this year's MBA Swim Team, but the team was not easily led astray, and the Fighting Irish succumbed to the awesome power of the Big Red. In the dual meet against Tullahoma (last year's Region Champs), MBA showed off its talent and extended the season record to five and zero. At the Excel Invitational, the powerhouses Brentwood, Tullahoma, and Riverdale were all present. The team scores were extremely close throughout the meet, and the deciding event was the 400-yard freestyle relay. Swimmers Cameron, Kuykendall, Chen, and Kane ended up losing by one hundreth of a second, a frustrating loss for an exhausted team. Finally, the Region Championship came around, and the Big Red Wave was determined to take home the Region plaque. The meet again came down to the last event. This time, however, MBA managed to keep Brentwood down, and the Big Red Wave reclaimed what belonged to it all along–the Region Championship plaque!

With its main goal of the season accomplished, MBA managed to qualify a record number of ten swimmers tro the State Meet: Jonathan Baird, Adrian Cameron, Jonathan Chen, Peter Chen, Jeremy Kane, Sam Kuykendall, Chris Nalbantyan, Joey Martinez, James Walton, and Tyler Willingham. The team finished ninth overall, an impressive performance against teams triple thier size. At the end of the 1995 swimming season, the Big Red Wave had nothing to be ashamed about; and, as always, this year's team remained confident that its legacy would live on...

INTERVIEW WITH COACH RUNDBERG

Bell:During what meet was the Big Wave at its best?
Coach Rundberg: Definitely at Region We were well rested and came out and proved well, beating out Brentwood and all the other teams.
Bell: What are your feelings of this past season?
C.R.: We had a tremendous season; we went undefeated in dual meet competition. Region went well.
Bell: What is the outlook for next year?
C.R.: The loss of Jeremy Kane will obviously hurt. We still should be pretty good. We will lose only three seniors, so we should be strong. One of our strong points next year will be Adrian Cameron. Also, Sam Kuykendall, Peter Chen, Jonathan Chen, Tyler Willingham, and Chris Kellem will prove to do well next year.

The Varsity Wrestling team finished the long, grueling season with a winning dual-meet record. The team grappled with and defeated traditional foes such as Hillwood and Lipscomb, but fell a little short in their match-ups against Father Ryan and Overton. Despite some key injuries to the team, MBA often placed several in the top four of every tournament. Those who placed in Region were Jonathan Williams, David Sanders, Sterling Sanders, Alan Roe, Andrew Douglas, and Cory Morgan. The team had no State placers; however, MBA had wrestlers Andrew Douglas and Cory Morgan losing in the third round of the consolations. The other starters who proved well during the 1994-1995 wrestling season were Max Shuster, Akinori Hashimura, Will McKeand, Eric Compton, Harwell Horton, Will Bartholomew, Harwood Curry, and Houston Howell. The Big Red worked extremely hard this season, and should do well in years to come under new coach Frank Simpson. The team would like to thank Coach Lisenby, and especially Coach Killian who helped us to do our best in every meet.

INTERVIEW WITH COACH KILLIAN

Bell: What do you feel were the season's highlights?
Coach Killian: There were a few wins to note such as beating Springfield; it was a big win. Some of the highlights did not come by winning meets; they were the camaraderie of the team, working together.
Bell: How important of a role did injuries play in this past wrestling season?
C.K.: The only major loss of the season was to Will McKeand. Will was one of the top three or four wrestlers in the state in his weight class, but he never got a chance to prove it, which is very tough for a senior.
Bell: Would you consider this past season as a successful one?
C.K.: Yes; we had a dual meet won/loss record of 12-4, and finished region fourth. This was done with a very young team.
Bell: So you feel the outlook for next season is positive?
C.K.: Yes, the outlook is good, a lot of enthusiasm.

The Varsity team set one goal for the 1995 season— to get to the state tournament in Chattanooga. After a disappointing first round region loss last year, the team dedicated itself to making it to the final four. Experience was the key on the team, with seven out of the nine starters as seniors.

The spring break trip to Cocoa Beach proved to be the most successful ever. The Big Red earned a 5-1 record against many strong Florida teams. Back at home, the Big Red started a winning streak of 13 games, 11 of which clinched the district championship. In Memphis, the Red won four but took two losses to Oakland and Tupelo, Mississippi, in the semi-finals of the Mid-Spring Classic. The Big Red Machine began its roll again, however, winning a school record 15 games in a row, and playing itself into the state tournament in Chattanooga. This tournament was the 3rd state tournament for MBA in four years, and the experience factor gave the team confidence. MBA lost the opening game, but fought back, winning its next two games, one of them a 12-0 whipping of Murfreesboro Oakland. The Big Red was set to play the #1 team in the nation, Germantown, in the final game. Even though Germantown only scored one earned run, timely hitting and good defense gave them a 6-3 win.

MBA, however, had a lot to be proud of. The 1995 team set the all-time school record for wins with a 30-4 mark. The pitching staff was also one of the best ever, with Stephen Bess achieving an 11-0 record, Franklin Jarman a 9-1, and John Sexton and Dave Sifford both with 4-1 records. MBA's post season awards were numerous: All-District to Bess, Jarman, Garrett, Martin, and Frey. The track team this year was well-rounded in both the running events and the field events. Despite losing several seniors, the team improved on the whole. The goal, as senior John Farringer saw it at the start of the season, was " to win the Region, then the Team State, two titles we had definite chances at winning." After several weeks of dual-meet competition, the Big Red won the Doug Hall Relays. This meet proved to be good ones for future relay meets. The next week MBA won the Region 3-AAA Team Relays, a feat which sent them to Team State. Although the team garnered a fourth-place win, coaches and runners alike were pleased with improving times and distances. After individual highlights in the Banner and Optimist, the track team entered the Region Meet. In the field events, pole vaulters Buck Blair, Max Fuller, and John Ozier swept the top three spots. In the high jump, Paul Russell, first, and Aziz Bah, third, also scored important points. Bill Englert and Ted Callahan were finalists in the discus, with Englert receiving fourth place. In the shotput, Scott Denbo, who had already broken the school record some twenty three times during the season, putted 53'11" in his first place Region victory. After the field events, MBA had a thirty-point lead over Overton. Strong running provided by Zach Greenwood, Morgan Cordell, Hanley Sayers, Jonathan Fly, Jon David Daniell, Mark Wyckoff, James Gunn, and others prevented MBA's lead from ever "frittering away." The 1600-meter relay team received a second-place victory. Overall MBA outdistanced runner up Hillsboro 107 to 71. In the words of Coach Pruitt, "Pending results in the State Meet, this may be the most successful MBA track team ever."

To the chagrin of TSSAA old-school hard-liners and in the face of Brentwood anti-coach whiners, the MBA Lacrosse team completed yet another winning season this spring, compiling an undefeated record in the region and finishing 12-4 overall. There had been some confusion as to the date of the team's first official game, which traditionally occurs in early March. However, because of bureaucratic conflicts, MBA's first few games took place in what has since been termed the "unofficial" season. The (official) official season began after the annual spring break trip to Hilton Head, where the Big Red faced tough teams from the northeast such as Milton and Potomac. Back in Tennessee, the team used its newly discovered talents to dominate Brentwood, Franklin, USN, and other non-threats while miraculously retaining their capacity to hear in spite of Coach Baer's incessant screaming. The team suffered a loss in the form of a minor injury to perennial powerhouse Aaron Ferguson, who was forced to look on from the sideline until the McCallie game, which was lost 3-1. Back at full strength, the Big Red challenged CBHS in the Nashville Invitational Lacrosse Tournament and lost 4-3 in round one, but persistence paid off. Following the Memphis team's eerie disappearance late one Saturday evening, MBA fought through unpredictable thundershowers and intense Prom fatigue to beat Sumner and an improved USN for the tournament trophy. The regular season gave way to state tournament play after several more Big Red wins in the region, and the team prepared to defend its state crown. The addition of S. McClendon and Coach Bill Ralph greatly improved defensive technique, sending Tyler "Concussion" Coleman to the top of opposing teams' respect lists. Carson Kaesar prepared to win every face-off with help from Vanderbilt's top athletes, and he marked his territory in the state semifinals by winning every face-off he contested, giving the team the ball when it was needed most. The torqued-up Big Red opened fire against Baylor in the semis, using goals from Jesse Neil and game MVP Jarrett Carden to finish the first half 12-2. The team rested in the second half and still defeated Baylor handily, advancing to the finals against longtime rival CBHS. On a hot day and on a soggy field, the Big Red gave 110% to keep its title, but it wasn't enough. The team lost by a scant three goals, finishing its season with a long ride back to Nashville. The highlight of the season was Kirk Howell's vote to All-American status by TSLA coaches and referees, a great accomplishment for a junior. The team now looks to recapture the state championship with its returning talent, and, as the team loses only two senior players, success is imminent.

With the return of seven starters, the 1995 Varsity soccer team had a strong nucleus on which to build. Returning Varsity members included seniors Langfitt, Griffith, Davenport, and Hall. The addition of two seniors, Morgan and Welhoelter, would help spark the team to a twelve win season. After a strong start, the team lost a tough game to a talented Ryan squad and was surprised by BGA. However, they bounced back, going unbeaten for the last seven regular season games, including commanding wins over USN, Franklin, Overton, and Hillwood. In the District Tournament, the MBA squad defeated FRA and Hillsboro, advancing to the finals. Despite losing in the finals to Father Ryan, they came in second in the District and advanced to the Region Tournament. In the Region, MBA soundly defeated DCA and again advanced to the finals. MBA came up short again in the third and final meeting against Ryan, but still received the Region Runner-up award. The 1996 season once again looks promising with Coach Lanier's guidance and thirteen returning underclassmen, including Cermak, Osborn, Mixon, Markham, Wieck, and Blount in goal.

The MBA Tennis team completed its most successful season in school history, compiling a 20-0 record, winning the prestigious Chattanooga Rotary Invitational and Center Memorial, and bringing home MBA's first team State Championship ever.

This season, the Big Red defeated such perennial state contenders as Brentwood, Bradley Central, Memphis University School, Chattanooga Baylor, and Chattanooga McCallie. The team included lone senior and captain Randy Howell, juniors Adam Michael and Bill and Daniel McGugin, sophomores Jake Beesley, Matt Beasley, Brew Davis, Clay Hamblen, Carter Paine, and Justin Tatum. Freshmen newcomers included Vijay Upadhyaya and Jason Dimopolous.

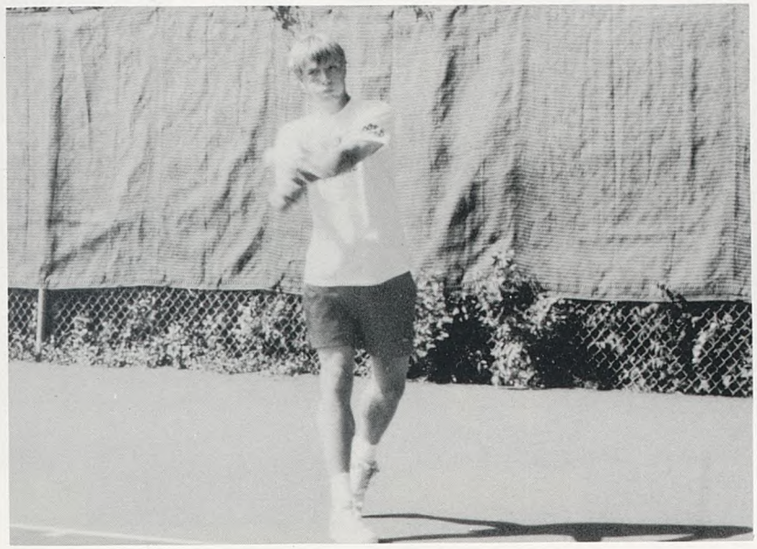

After hosting the district and region tournaments and qualifying each of the top six players for the individual state tournament, MBA defeated Lipscomb, Hume-Fogg, and Beech en route to the record clash with Chattanooga Baylor in the state semi-finals. After a four-and-a-half hour battle in which every match split nets, the Big Red came out on top 4-2. Having defeated Baylor, MBA faced Knoxville Webb in the finals. With a 4-1 victory over the Spartans,the Big Red became the 1995 TSSAA State Tennis Champions. Following the state team competition, Bill and Dan McGugin successfully defended Randy Howell and Charles Warner's State Doubles title to put the finishing touch on a perfect season.

VARSITY RIFLERY

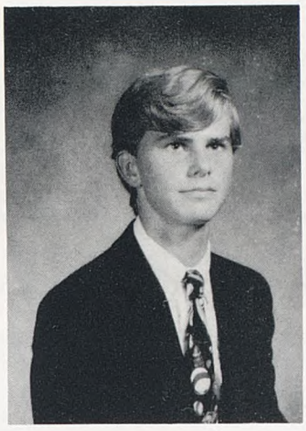

David Berry

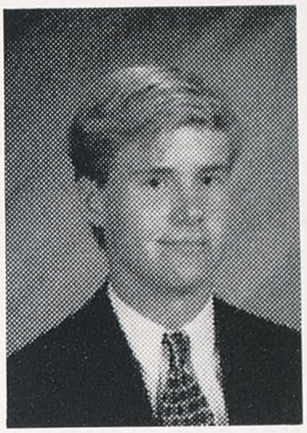

Haynes Gentry

Daniel Rivers

Lee Cornelius

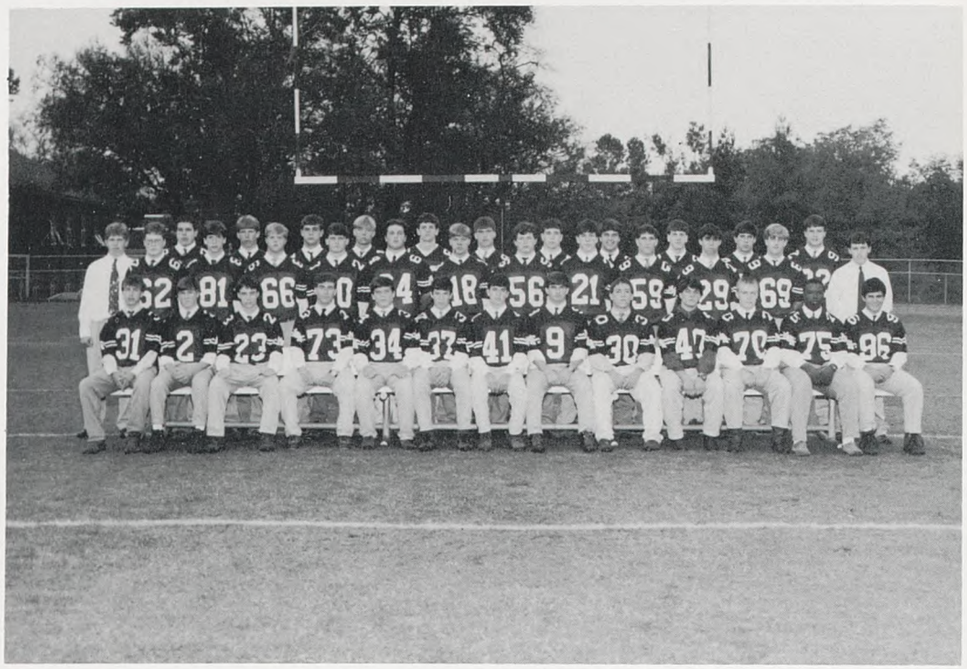

Phillip Berry

The 1995 Riflery season was much shortened from seasons of the past, due to the restrictions Vanderbilt University attempted to put on the use of their range. We finally started our practices in early January. With two returning starters from last year and a few returning junior varsity members, our initial outlook was hopeful. In both of the first two matches, the team placed third. Going into the State tournament we were set to do the best we could with our inexperienced team. Luckily, Lee Cornelius proved well in the State tournament. MBA took fourth in State with Haynes Gentry shooting to a sixth place individual finish. Gentry, along with Daniel Rivers, shot personal best scores of 356 and 351, respectively. Led by captain Haynes Gentry, the MBA Riflery team consisted of Daniel Rivers, David Berry, Lee Cornelius, and Phillip Berry, along with fellow junior varsity members Sean Cunningham and Shooter Jennings. The team would like to thank Coach Deneke for his help and support for this season.

WEENIE BOWL '94

Once again, the gods of MBA sports declared there to be a showdown between the two mightiest forces in athletics, those of the golf team and the cross country team. And once again, the golf team reigned victorious. Not to be outdone by the cross country team's superior numbers, golf stars Charlie Malone and Cooper Jones led the team to an outsanding 45 to 12 win. Not that the cross country team lacked its own lot of good players; many observers noted the skills of Kenneth "DJ Bad Attitude" Pruitt and Joey "Gap God" Martinez as forces to be reckoned with on the field. But on that drizzly day in November, not even they were enough to block the awesome power of the golf team.

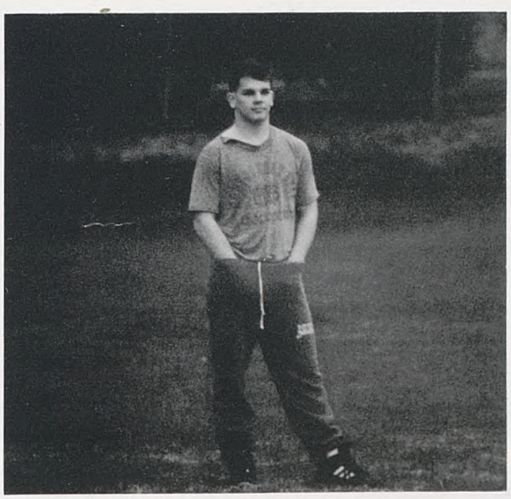

Not even the efforts of Stephen Marler and Scott Bowen were enough to stop the golf team.

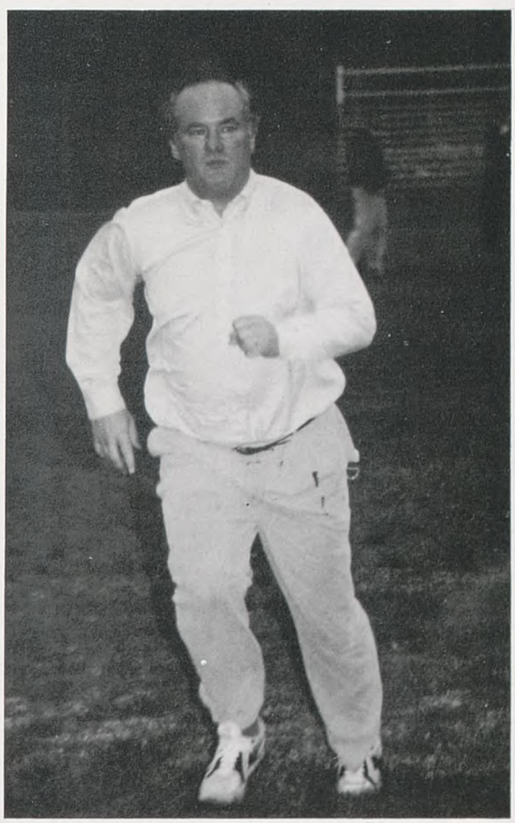

WEENIER BOWL '94

Following on the heels of the Weenie Bowl came the establishment of an even greater test of strength and will on the Hill. It began with the Debate Team's challenge to the Theatre Club to the first annual Weenier Bowl. In terms of challenges, the Debate Team won on the sheer eloquence of Tim Wesley's taunts, from which the Theatre Club could only hope to come back. After numerous challenges and counter- challenges, the teams faced off on December 15, 1994. A day that shall live in infamy. While the Debate Team fought valiantly without the leadership of Mr. Tate, they could not overcome the power of Bart Whiteman. After several comeback streaks, the Theatre Club came out on top by two touchdowns.

Tim presents the challenge.

Weenier Bowl MVP Mr. Whiteman.

ADMINISTRATION

HEADMASTER BRADFORD GIOIA

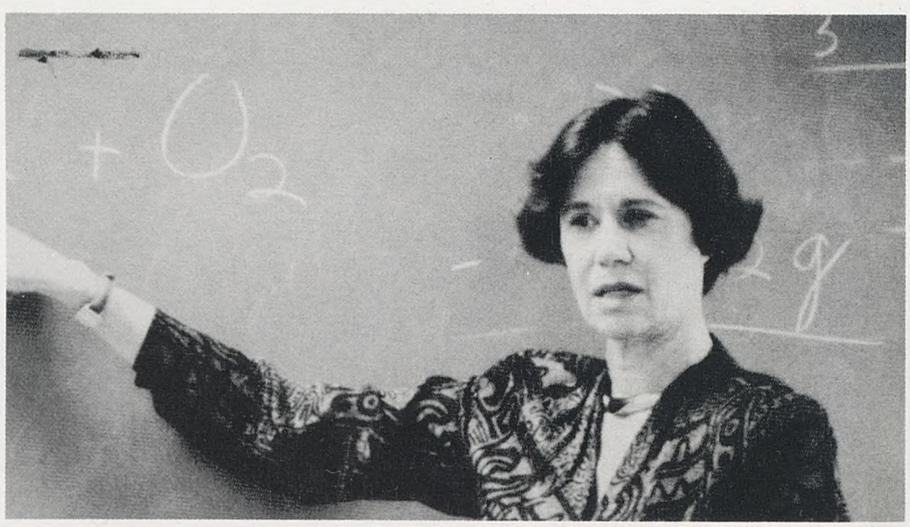

Mr. Bradford Gioia assumed the position of Headmaster in the 1994-1995 school year, stressing community service and continuing the legacy of Dr. Paschall, his friend and teacher. Mr. Gioia teaches one section of AP English in addition to carrying out his many duties as Headmaster. Mr. Gioia has a B.A. in English from the University of the South, a M.A. from Middlebury College, and a M.Ed. in Administration from West Georgia College.

MARTHA THURMOND, DIRECTOR OF JUNIOR SCHOOL

In her third year of teaching at MBA, Mrs. Thurmond continues to direct the Junior School while teaching a section of Introductory Physical Science. She also is an assistant coach to the riflery team. Mrs. Thurmond received her B.S., her M.Ed., and her Ed.S. from the University of Georgia.

ALUMNI & DEVELOPMENT OFFICE

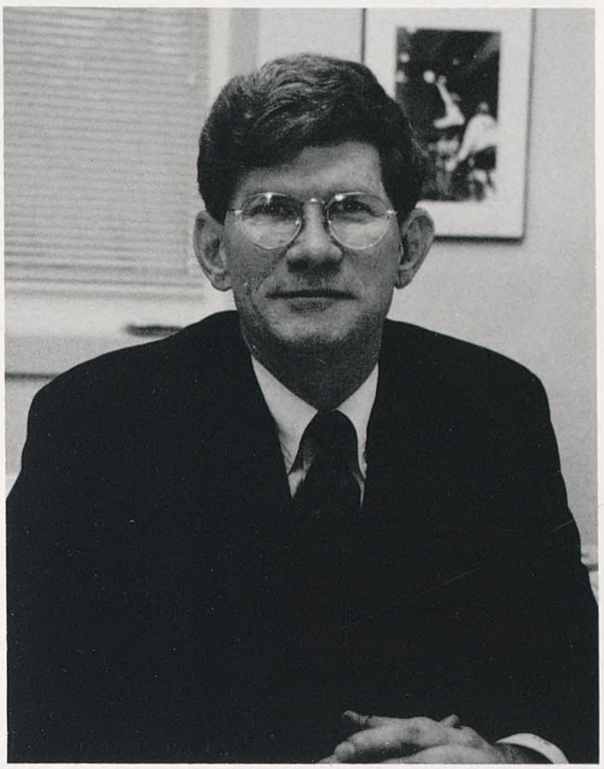

The Development Office, consisting of Tom Weaver, Ruth Napier, and Peggy Kirby, concentrates on raising money, promoting the school, and coordinating alumni relations. In particular, they put out a quarterly publication, The Alumni Reports , which details the goings on of the school to the MBA community. Mr. Weaver has also directed the "Forging a Generation Ahead" campaign. Most notably, the Development Office has been decisive in coordinating efforts to expand and beautify the campus.

COMMENCEMENT

This year has proven that MBA can truly reflect the integration of tradition and change. The arrival of Mr. Gioia has heralded in a new era in MBA's history, in which we will reach out to the community and use our values and resources to help Nashville progress. It is thus fitting that this year's graduating class held service to others as one of its primary qualities. More than that, this class has embodied the MBA credo of "Gentleman, Scholar, Athlete" to its fullest extent.

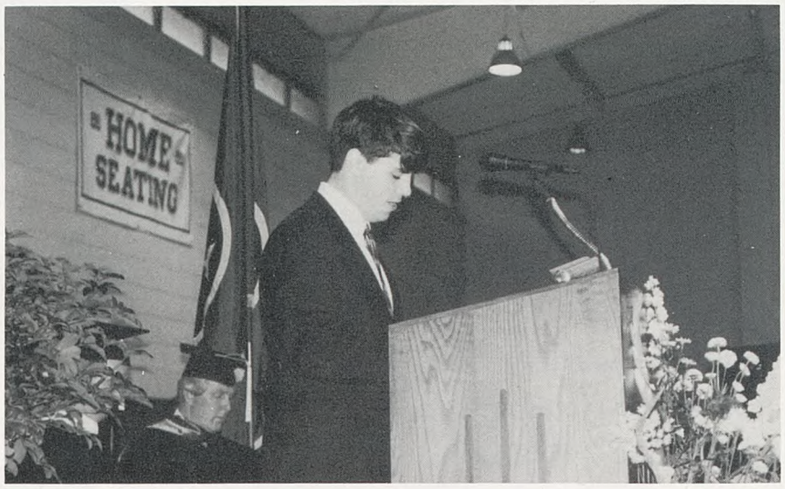

Freddie O'Connell delivers the Salutatory Address.

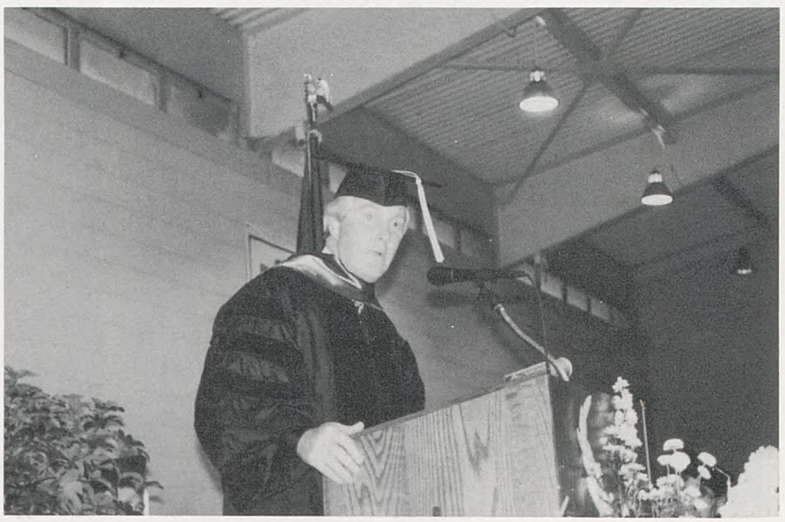

Mr.Gioia presents Eric Himmelfarb the Valedictory medal.

As the Seniors stood as an honor guard, the faculty processed to their seats.

Senior Class President Andy Corts gives the opening prayer.

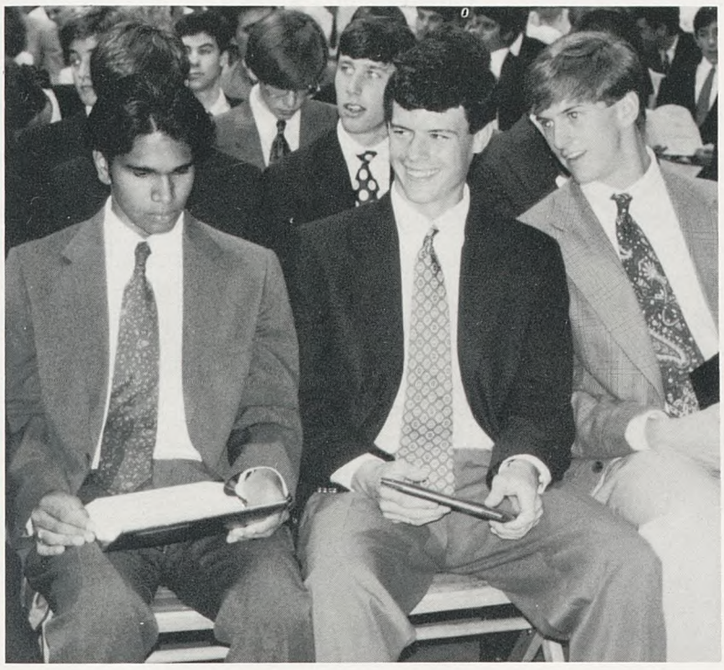

The Keynote Speech was given by alumnus Dr. Thomas Frist.

... and the Seniors were in awe.

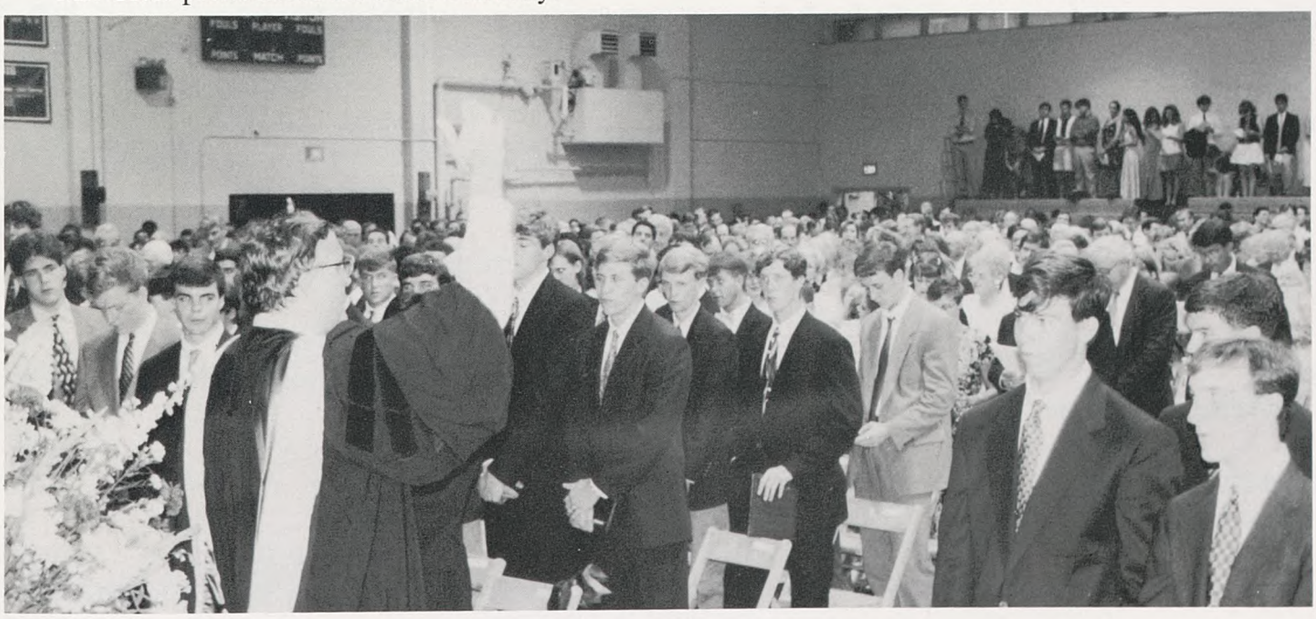

Mark Dunkerley sings solo on "the Navy Hymn."

Cooper smiles for the camera, while Praveen's just glad Mr. Gioia pronounced his name correctly.

Honor Council President Rob Welhoelter gives the benediction.

JUNIOR

DEDICATION

In his three years at Montgomery Bell Academy, Mr. Brooks Corzine has been very instrumental in the growth of students in the Junior School. His enthusiasm for teaching and unflagging devotion to his students make his classroom an outstanding learning environment. Mr. Corzine's influence stretches beyond the classroom onto the track, where his past experience as a decathlete at MBA gives him insight to coach his runners effectively. Thus, for his commitment to the development of gentlemen, scholars, and athletes, we dedicate the Junior School section of the 1995 Bell to Mr. Brooks Corzine.

EDITOR'S NOTE

A FEW EXTRA BIO PICTURES-- THE PRIVILEGE OF BEING EDITOR

Michael, Dad Dad, and me--September, 1980.

I like to think that unlike the majority of the books churned out from high schools across America every year, the Bell is not mindless babble created to get an A in journalism class. Some readers may be set back by some of the satire and sarcasm subtle or overt in the book's copy; I hope that they will also realize that this is the expression of the mind of the staff, refusing to be confined to meaningless captions like "Juniors Scott Samels and Becky Smith have lunch in the gym". There is 0 humor in such books. I spent a week at annual camp; trust me, I know.

Looking beyond the copy of the Bell , one sees in the layout the same flame— the conservative, repetitious nature of the book belies it; note the overlain effects of the Senior Bios or the lower-case headlines in the Junior School section. We attempted not just to put down something quick and conventional, but to integrate the layout into a subtle reflection of our own imaginations and perspectives on MBA. Outsiders ask, "What is your theme?" and I tell them just that.

This year's book has exceeded my wildest expectations. I held a weighty position last year as features editor, and yet was shielded from any overall responsibility by two editors. And then there was one. I was worried about a lack of experienced staff, worried that the conversion to a computer- based layout would end in disaster. And yet both worries were unfounded. Joey, Micah, and Peter really pulled through on the bios, and Buck was indispensible in the adoption of the computer format. Freddie and Doug held up more than their fair share, and as the year progressed my initial doubts about the efficacy of Doug's editorship next year faded into confidence that I was leaving the book in good hands.

I am the first, but certainly not the last, editor to be raised up from the 8th grade, to be trained for his role for five years. I see Raja, Lee, Brian, and Michael in my wake... Remember the words of Dylan Thomas at the introduction to this book— "Rage, Rage against the dying of the light", and realize that your words will fork lightning, but you must refuse to follow the party line; instead, don't be afraid to step on a few toes, and create a book in your own image, even if you must develop one first.

P.S.- These pictures are more of a gift to my Mom than to myself-- she always likes that sort of thing.

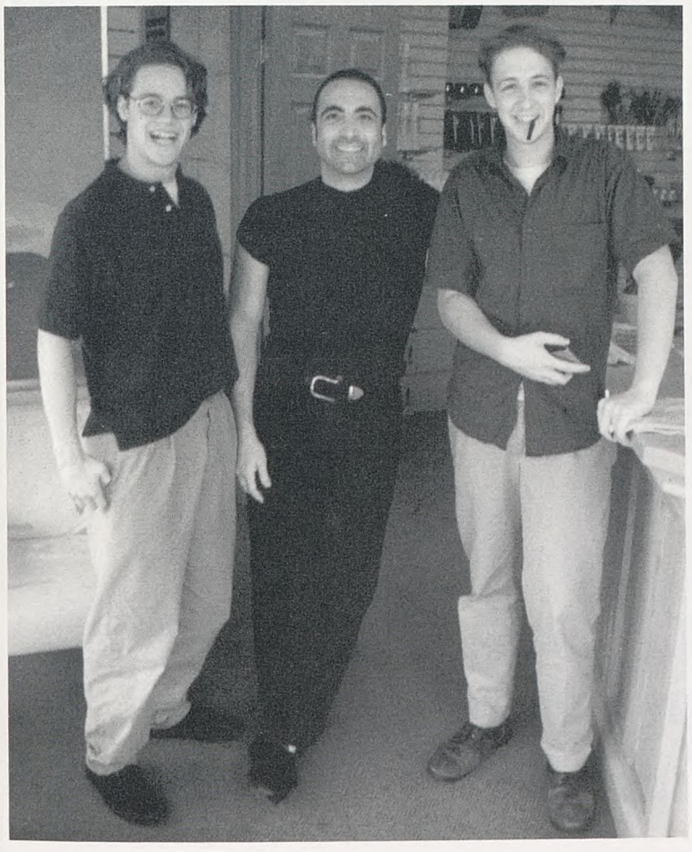

The Risens and the Takeguchis.

Riqué, world- renowned sculptor of Mrs. Whelhoelter's hair, looks forward to meeting future challenges with a strong, yet sensitive smile.

AS YOU GO JUST LOOK TO JESUS,
HE"S RIGHT BESIDE YOU.
HE WILL BRING YOU THROUGH.
IT'S A WONDERFUL WORLD
OUT THERE.
AND, IT'S ALL YOURS!
GOD BLESS
WE'RE PROUD OF YOU
AND YOUR DAD IN HEAVEN IS TOO.
